

Managing and Adapting Practice (MAP) Training Program

The Evidence Based Treatment and Dissemination Center (EBTDC) is very excited to offer clinics serving children an opportunity to improve clinical outcomes, enhance accountability and increase the knowledge and skills of the workforce. As organizations prepare to meet the challenges of the changing behavioral healthcare system, the role of practitioner friendly decision support tools to promote effective practices that demonstrate measurable outcomes will become increasingly critical. The focus of this project is to offer organizations access to resources designed to provide practitioners with information and state of the art online decision support tools to guide and improve practice.

Recently, decision support tools and resources have been developed to address the need for more reliable and easily accessible resources to support clinical decisions. An online decision support system called Managing and Adapting Practice (MAP) is currently being implemented in a number of mental health organizations in the United States.

The MAP system was developed by Drs. Bruce Chorpita & Eric Daleiden, www.practicewise.com.☒ MAP is an online resource that assists practitioners to coordinate and supplement the use of evidence-based practice for children's mental health. The MAP system is designed to improve the quality, efficiency, and outcomes of children's mental health services by giving administrators and practitioner's easy access to the most current scientific information and by providing user-friendly monitoring tools and clinical protocols. Using an online database, the system can suggest formal evidence-based programs or, alternatively, can provide detailed recommendations about discrete components of evidence-based treatments relevant to a specific youth's characteristics. Whether services are delivered through existing evidence-based programs or assembled from components, the MAP system also adds a unifying evaluation framework to track outcomes and practices.

MAP consists of three online tools:

- 1. Practice Wise Evidence-Based Service: online database that can make recommendations about formal evidence-based programs OR about specific components of evidence-based treatments based on the clinical problem and client characteristics
- 2. Practitioner Guides: Provides practitioners with a description of a broad range of evidence informed clinical interventions and their components in a user friendly way. The majority of these practice guidelines refer to cognitive-behavioral and psycho-educational approaches.
- 3. Clinical Dashboard: A graphic display that tracks and monitors outcomes and associated practices on a graphical clinical dashboard
