ORGANIZATIONS

NAMI – New York State Criminal Justice Project

This project is headed by a Criminal Justice Coordinator who helps families access information when a family member is in trouble and faces criminal charges. The Coordinator also works with NAMI-NYS affiliates to provide education on criminal justice issues and works to improve mental health training programs for law enforcement, court officials and correctional personnel.

The GAINS Center Policy Research, Inc.

The National GAINS Center for People with Co-Occurring Disorders in the Criminal Justice System (GAINS) is a national locus for the collection and dissemination of information about effective mental health and substance abuse services for people with co-occurring disorders who come in contact with the justice system. They provide technical assistance to states, localities and criminal justice and provider organizations that are in the process of developing or implementing services to people with co-occurring mental health and substance abuse disorders in the justice system. The emphasis is on serving individuals at all stages of the justice system – law enforcement, jails, prisons, probation, and parole. The Center provides special attention to the needs of women and juveniles and seeks the active involvement of consumers and family members.

New York State Conference of Local Mental Hygiene Directors

The New York State Conference of Local Mental Hygiene Directors is a statewide membership organization that was statutorily incorporated under Article 41 of the Mental Hygiene Law in 1977. They have statutory responsibility to comment upon proposed rules, regulations and policies involving local mental hygiene services plans and programs. The Conference is comprised of local mental hygiene directors and commissioners in all of the 57 counties and the City of New York. The conference advances state and local policies, practices, laws, regulation and funding for the purpose of ensuring comprehensive, integrated and cost-effective system of care to meet the needs of those persons, and there families, affected by mental illness, developmental disability and/or chemical dependency.
